ABOUT TOXICOLOGY2026

A Mission-Driven Platform by Creovate Conferences
Conference Manager: Mr. Ram Charan

At Creovate Conferences, we believe scientific gatherings should be more than lectures—they should ignite collaboration, drive innovation, and influence global health and regulatory policy. That's the core vision behind the International Conference on Toxicology and Applied Pharmacology (Toxicology2026), taking place from May 28–30, 2026, in the vibrant city of Barcelona, Spain.

Toxicology2026 is not just another academic event—it's a strategically curated experience, designed by scientists and decision-makers for those ready to lead change in toxicological sciences and pharmacology. As Conference Manager, I, Ram Charan, have ensured that this platform stands apart in purpose, credibility, and lasting impact.

Whether you're a researcher seeking visibility, a sponsor aiming for high-level engagement, or an exhibitor looking to connect with buyers and thought leaders, this is your arena. With a forward-thinking agenda, integrated networking, and a showcase of global innovation, Toxicology2026 offers unmatched value.

At Creovate, we don't do generic. We create scientific ecosystems that build careers, catalyze partnerships, and advance science that matters.

Join us in Barcelona—and help shape the future of toxicology.

Best Regards
Ram Charan

CONFERENCE SESSIONS

-  Mechanistic and Molecular Toxicology
-  Computational Toxicology and AI Integration
-  Regulatory Toxicology and Risk Assessment
-  Environmental and Ecotoxicology of Emerging Contaminants
-  Clinical and Translational Toxicology
-  Nanotoxicology of Engineered Nanomaterials
-  Pharmacokinetics and Toxicokinetics Modeling
-  Systems Toxicology and Network Biology
-  Omics Technologies in Toxicology
-  High-Throughput Screening and Automation in Toxicology
-  Adverse Outcome Pathways (AOPs) and Predictive Modeling
-  Toxicogenomics and Epigenetic Modifications
-  In Vitro and Organ-on-a-Chip Toxicology Models
-  Regulatory Perspectives and Challenges in NHP Toxicology
-  Endocrine Disruption and Reproductive Toxicology
-  Occupational and Industrial Chemical Safety

AND MANY MORE CUTTING-EDGE TOPICS IN TOXICOLOGY AND APPLIED PHARMACOLOGY, PLEASE VISIT NOW!!

WHY ATTEND TOXICOLOGY2026?

- Engage with Global Leaders – Connect with internationally renowned experts, researchers, and innovators in toxicology and applied pharmacology

- Gain Cutting-Edge Insights – Explore the latest research findings, regulatory updates, and emerging technologies shaping the future of drug safety and toxicological sciences.

- Interactive Knowledge Sharing – Participate in dynamic plenary sessions, panel debates, case studies, and hands-on workshops designed for both seasoned professionals and early-career scientists.

- Build Strategic Collaborations – Strengthen your professional network, foster academic-industry partnerships, and discover opportunities for research and career advancement.

- Showcase and Learn Beyond Your Field – Expand your perspective by engaging in cross-disciplinary discussions that bridge toxicology, pharmacology, risk assessment, and translational sciences.

WHO CAN ATTEND?

- Academic & Research Community – Professors, Associate/Assistant Professors, researchers, and PhD scholars in toxicology, pharmacology, life sciences, and biomedical sciences.
- Students & Early-Career Professionals – Graduate and postgraduate students, postdoctoral fellows, and young investigators building expertise in toxicology and pharmacology.
- Industry Leaders & Companies – Executives, directors, R&D scientists, and professionals from pharmaceutical, biotechnology, chemical, environmental, and healthcare companies, including CROs and preclinical research organizations.
- Regulatory & Policy Professionals – Experts from health authorities, regulatory bodies, and organizations involved in drug safety, risk assessment, and public health policy.
- Associations & Institutions – Representatives of research institutes, academic societies, training organizations, and professional associations

ABOUT CITY

About Barcelona, Spain

Barcelona, the cosmopolitan capital of Spain's Catalonia region, is a dynamic blend of culture, architecture, innovation, and history — making it one of Europe's top destinations for international conferences and academic gatherings.

Located on the northeastern coast of the Iberian Peninsula along the Mediterranean Sea, Barcelona is globally admired for its stunning modernist landmarks designed by Antoni Gaudí, vibrant neighborhoods, and Mediterranean charm.

Top Attractions in Barcelona

Whether you're visiting for business or leisure, Barcelona offers a wide range of world-renowned sites and cultural experiences:

- Sagrada Família – Gaudí's masterpiece and an iconic symbol of the city.

- Park Güell – A colorful and whimsical park that showcases Gaudí's unique style.

- La Rambla – A lively pedestrian street filled with shops, cafes, artists, and street performers.

- Gothic Quarter (Barri Gòtic) – A labyrinth of narrow medieval streets, charming squares, and Roman ruins.

- Casa Batlló & Casa Milà (La Pedrera) – Unique buildings reflecting Barcelona's modernist heritage.

- Magic Fountain of Montjuïc – A stunning evening water and light show near Plaça d'Espanya.

- Camp Nou Stadium – Home of FC Barcelona and a must-visit for football fans.

- Barceloneta Beach – Relax by the sea after a productive conference day.

With its inspiring atmosphere, exceptional infrastructure, and cultural richness, Barcelona offers the perfect setting to combine academic excellence with unforgettable experiences — making your participation in the conference truly memorable
