ABOUT PUBLICHEALTH2026

Public health is no longer just a discipline — it's a global urgency.

Welcome to the International Conference on Public Health and Preventive Medicine 2026, where purpose meets progress.

In a world shaped by shifting health priorities, emerging risks, and persistent inequities, this conference brings together the brightest minds, boldest ideas, and most committed professionals to reimagine public health for a healthier tomorrow.

Hosted in the dynamic heart of Barcelona, Spain, from May 28–30, 2026, this three-day summit will unite public health champions from across continents — researchers, policymakers, innovators, and frontline professionals — to spark new ideas, forge bold partnerships, and catalyze systems that can adapt, respond, and thrive.

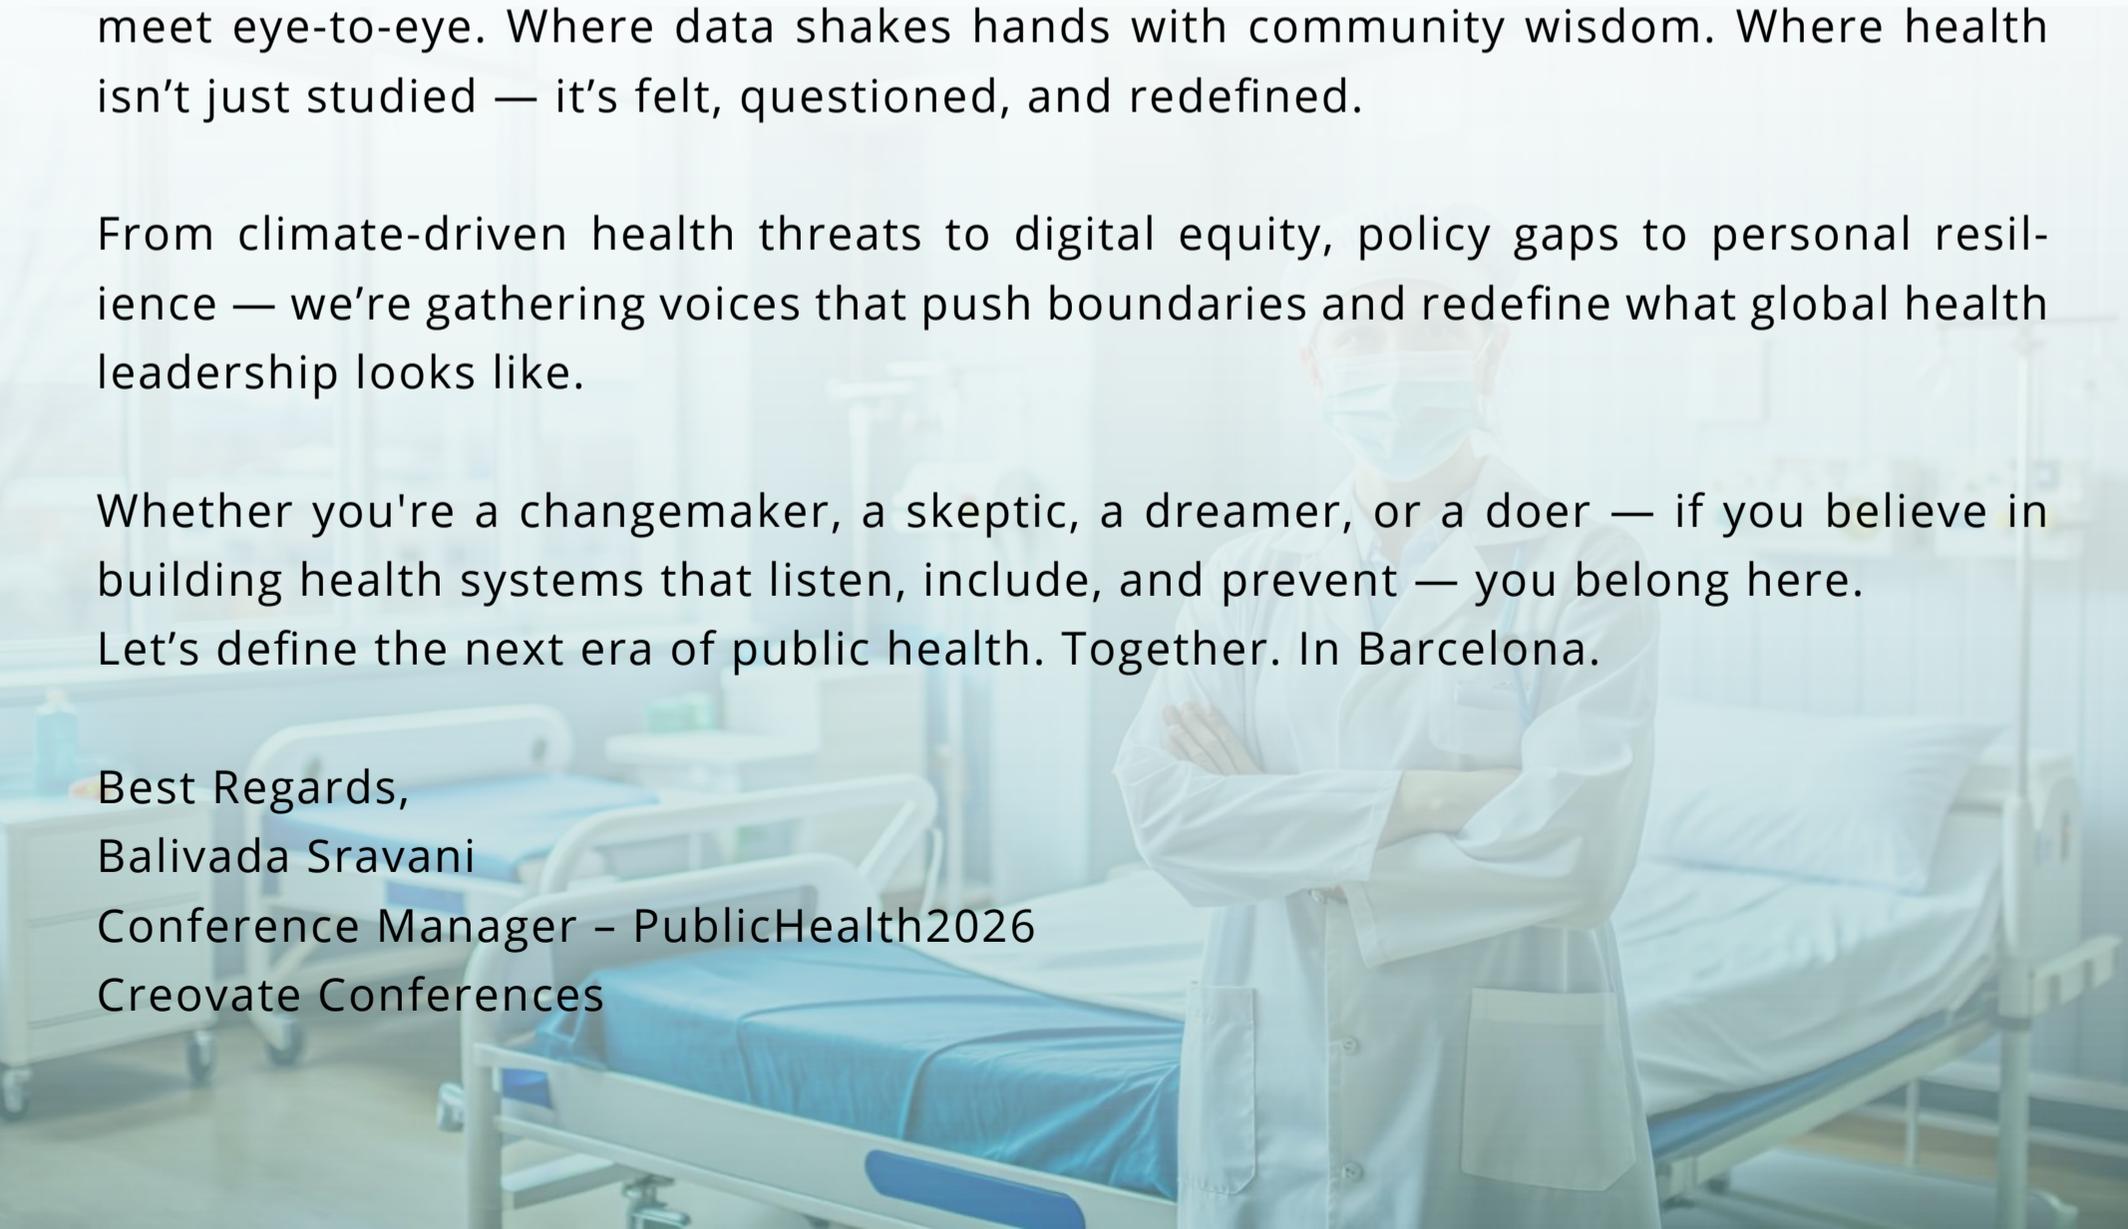

But this event isn't just about presentations — it's about provocations, possibilities, and people. We're building a space where thought leaders and frontline workers meet eye-to-eye. Where data shakes hands with community wisdom. Where health isn't just studied — it's felt, questioned, and redefined.

From climate-driven health threats to digital equity, policy gaps to personal resilience — we're gathering voices that push boundaries and redefine what global health leadership looks like.

Whether you're a changemaker, a skeptic, a dreamer, or a doer — if you believe in building health systems that listen, include, and prevent — you belong here.

Let's define the next era of public health. Together. In Barcelona.

Best Regards,

Who Should Come PUBLICHEALTH2026?

- Field Innovators & Practitioners — community health workers, program leads, and clinicians who translate science into services.

- Researchers & Academics — scholars producing evidence on prevention, systems, and health equity seeking influence beyond journals.

- Policy Makers & Planners — officials and advisors crafting the policies that scale interventions and protect populations.

- Tech & Data Builders — designers, engineers, and analysts creating tools for surveillance, early warning, telehealth, and AI-driven prevention.

- Nonprofits & Community Leaders — civil society voices advancing equity, outreach, and culturally grounded solutions

What You'll Walk Away With

- Practical frameworks and ideas you can adapt in your own organization or country.
- New cross-sector partnerships and contacts who move from “nice to meet you” to “let’s collaborate.”
- Exposure to funding pathways, policy levers, and real implementation lessons.
- Fresh perspectives — because solving public health challenges requires more than one discipline.

Why Join PublicHealth2026?

- See Tomorrow’s Solutions Today — fast-paced sessions reveal breakthrough research, community-led models, and digital tools that are already changing health outcomes.
- Practice-Ready Inspiration — leave with usable strategies, from low-cost community interventions to scalable digital programs, not just theory.
- Cross-Pollination Zones — curated spaces where clinicians, data scientists, policymakers, and community champions remix ideas and spark unexpected collaborations.
- Policy to Playground — witness how evidence travels from peer-review to policy brief to pilot project — and learn how to accelerate that journey in your context.
- Amplify Your Impact — whether you’re pitching a program or seeking partners, PublicHealth2026 connect you to decision-makers and funders ready to act.

ABOUT CITY

About Barcelona, Spain

Barcelona, the cosmopolitan capital of Spain's Catalonia region, is a dynamic blend of culture, architecture, innovation, and history — making it one of Europe's top destinations for international conferences and academic gatherings.

Located on the northeastern coast of the Iberian Peninsula along the Mediterranean Sea, Barcelona is globally admired for its stunning modernist landmarks designed by Antoni Gaudí, vibrant neighborhoods, and Mediterranean charm.

Top Attractions in Barcelona

Whether you're visiting for business or leisure, Barcelona offers a wide range of world-renowned sites and cultural experiences:

- Sagrada Família – Gaudí's masterpiece and an iconic symbol of the city.

- Park Güell – A colorful and whimsical park that showcases Gaudí's unique style.

- La Rambla – A lively pedestrian street filled with shops, cafes, artists, and street performers.

- Gothic Quarter (Barri Gòtic) – A labyrinth of narrow medieval streets, charming squares, and Roman ruins.

- Casa Batlló & Casa Milà (La Pedrera) – Unique buildings reflecting Barcelona's modernist heritage.

- Magic Fountain of Montjuïc – A stunning evening water and light show near Plaça d'Espanya.

- Camp Nou Stadium – Home of FC Barcelona and a must-visit for football fans.

- Barceloneta Beach – Relax by the sea after a productive conference day.

With its inspiring atmosphere, exceptional infrastructure, and cultural richness, Barcelona offers the perfect setting to combine academic excellence with unforgettable experiences — making your participation in the conference truly memorable
